Register here for either location of Transition to Practice for Nurses in the Long-term Care Setting.

This two-day course is for registered professional nurses who provide direct care services for older people with disabilities. Class is limited to 20 people.

Participating nurses will gain valuable resources to support their transition and prepare them to offer the highest possible level of care to nursing facility residents. Participants will receive a toolkit including evidence-based best practice information on topics such as:

- Medication administration
- Abuse, neglect, and exploitation
- Documentation
- Transition to practice
- Time management
- Alzheimer's disease and dementia
- Retention
- Success in the workplace
- Ethics

Registered nurses earn 8.50 contact hours upon successful completion of this activity. Email Camille Johnson if you have any questions.
